CONFERENCE PROGRAM

From Deep Roots to New Blooms:
A Weekend Gathering for SoulCollage® Facilitators
May 29-31, 2026

San Damiano Retreat, Danville, CA

Hosted by the San Francisco Bay Area Facilitator Village
In support of the SoulCollage Institute

CONFERENCE HOSTS

THE PLANNING COMMITTEE: These five Facilitators have been enthusiastically planning this event since April 2025. This synergistic team has a combined 66 years of SoulCollage® facilitation experience, and a diverse spectrum of professional and personal backgrounds.

Connie Beall is a retired psychotherapist and Veriditas Labyrinth Facilitator. Trained as a SoulCollage® Facilitator in 2012, she offers monthly workshops in Sonoma County, CA and annually on the Isle of Iona in Scotland. She loves interweaving SoulCollage® and labyrinth walks. For many years, she has helped organize and coordinate Facilitators in Northern California, now as a co-moderator for their WOSC Villages.

Debra Dake is a visual artist with a background in Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion – and is currently training as a professional clown. She teaches abstract expressionism and SoulCollage® as pathways from your head to your heart and into fearless self-expression. Trained in 2017 by Mariabruna Sirabella, Deb offers online and in-person classes in San Jose, at the spiritual center where Seena Frost once taught. Some of Seena's former students now attend her sessions.

Laurie Durnell's two careers, as a professional naturalist and as a team/leadership coach, have centered on creating opportunities for people to experience insight and delight. She studied with Angeles Arrien for eight years, including Tarot. Since her 2015 Facilitator training, she continues to weave these threads into the workshops she leads in Northern CA.

Karen Haas fell in love with SoulCollage® because of the way it beautifully weaves creativity with deep self-exploration. She became a Facilitator in 2010 and now hosts three monthly gatherings, both in-person and online. Karen has also produced two SoulCollage® retreats and thoughtfully integrates this expressive process into her psychotherapy work with selected clients. https://artofpresence.net/

Michele Manos has instructed groups ranging from elementary students to medical residents to new and seasoned SoulCollagers. Dr. Manos trained as a Facilitator in 2008, with Seena Frost. She's created and co-created various SoulCollage® adventures, including the 2009 Facilitators' Conference at Kenyon Ranch, Arizona and more than a dozen retreats. She expanded her virtual gatherings in response to the pandemic and has since offered over 75 unique online workshops. Michele loves sharing the magic with and learning from other enthusiastic SoulCollagers, particularly her Facilitator colleagues. Michelemanos.com

REGISTRATION COORDINATOR: Dana Falls has been a practicing Marriage and Family Therapist in Santa Rosa, CA for more than 30 years. In 2023, she trained with Colleen Haggerty and began integrating SoulCollage® into her work with clients. She values the way imagery can move beyond the talking and thinking mind, creating a rich and meaningful pathway for exploring the inner world. Dana also facilitates public SoulCollage® workshops in Santa Rosa. As a yoga instructor who teaches both asana and yoga philosophy classes, she is passionate about connecting contemplative practices and creative expression.

EVENT SUPPORT: MJ Abell has ventured from Ohio to provide support. See page 9 to learn about her Conference session and bio.

CONFERENCE SESSIONS

Please refer to the Schedule-at-a-Glance (final pages of this document) for further details.

FRIDAY, MAY 29

AFTERNOON PLENARY SESSIONS

Meet in FIRESIDE for both sessions. Bring your clipboard, pen, journal, scissors, a collection of at least 20 of your cards from any suit, and your SoulEssence card (put your name on a post-it note from your conference goodies on the back of your card).

Once in the Fireside room, choose one image, one background, and a sleeve from the displays at the entry before taking your seat.

SESSION 1: Welcome and Warm Up

Meet your hosts, get oriented and then settle in to create a "warm up" card. You will spend some time listening to your new Neter, in quiet reflection and with the help of a scribe. We'll share in some meaningful fun as we tend to our roots and grow fresh ideas.

The Planning Committee is your host for this session.

SESSION 2: Into the Deep Roots

Before we can reach for blooming, we must remember what holds us to solid ground. I invite us to descend into the roots of SoulCollage®, into the lineage that connects every Facilitator in this room, into the ancient image of Indra's Net where every jewel reflects every other and no light is lost. SoulEssence may help us remember our interconnection as the spark of Source present in every aspect of creation, the deepest root of all. I invite you to weave its solid roots into every moment of this Gathering.

Mariabruna Sirabella is your guide for this session.
An anthropologist of Theatre and Trance, practitioner, therapist, and artist, Mariabruna has been facilitating programs around the world for over forty years. Her School of the Origins nurtures creativity and spirituality drawing on the inclusive wisdom of nature — through apprenticeships, rituals, and the SoulCollage® method, of which she is a Lead Trainer. Seena Frost, the mother of SoulCollage®, and Mariabruna met in 1996 and collaborated for nearly twenty years, sharing this inexhaustible source of inspiration with the conviction that — by empowering each individual — it can speak a universal language and give voice to the most diverse cultures, stories, emotions, and lived experiences. mariabruna.com

FRIDAY EVENING PLENARY SESSION

Meet in FIRESIDE. Bring your adventurous self.

Indra's Networking Your Planning Committee will lead you on an adventure during which you'll connect with several other attendees, share some of your "essentials," and begin weaving the web of collegiality and friendship for our weekend together.

FRIDAY EVENING "UP LATES"
Meet in CHAPEL

Special reading of a selection from the long serial poem Mother Vulture

The poem features a guise of the Great Mother Goddess archetype, a metaphor, larger than life. Jan's poetry springs from these roots: Soul-tending, metaphor, going deeper, listening to the inner words and worlds you didn't know you had; embracing inclusion of all parts in a dynamic whole (Indra's Net); honoring ecology and Inter-Being; welcoming the uninvited guest; recognizing the mystery and the Shadow as gift-bearers – all as part of healing, balance, and relating to others.

Your poet for the evening, Jan McEwan, is retired from 48 years employment as a health professional, former board member for Women's Forest Sanctuary & CAW California Alliance for Women, and founder/editor/publisher of a feminist litmag. An active SoulCollage® practitioner since 1995, Facilitator since 2004, Jan is now coming into her fullness as artist, SoulCollage® elder, and poet.

SATURDAY, MAY 30

MORNING PLENARY SESSION

Meet in FIRESIDE. Bring at least 3 Committee and 3 Council Cards, your journal and pen.

The SoulEssence Card and the Acorn Theory

Deep roots and new blooms arise from the potential in a seed. In this session we will create a deeper understanding of the SoulEssence card and James Hillman's Acorn Theory. Seena Frost wrote, "deep within each living being, and indeed all created forms, from their beginning, is a spark containing a pattern and a thrust towards what it can become" (The Transpersonal Cards of the SoulCollage® Deck, 2006). As your SoulCollage® deck grows, you develop your own very personal constellation of "Neters". We will explore the link between Council and Committee cards in relation to the SoulEssence card.

Your presenter, Jennifer Colby, PhD, Professor Emeritus in Liberal Studies at CSU Monterey Bay, is an artist, activist, and gallery director in San Juan Bautista, CA (http://www.lunagallery.art). She was in Seena Frost's original SoulCollage® group in Watsonville during the 1990s/2000s. Dr. Colby has a PhD in Women's Spirituality and a Master's in Theology, Religion and the Arts. Her scholarship explores women's art and the sacred female, particularly Our Lady of Guadalupe.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS I – Saturday Morning

Listen… What Does Your Soul Hear as Nature Speaks?

Join Lisa as we hike a metaphorical "trail" with our Neters and connect with nature's messengers and messages along the way. We'll journal about our existing relationship with nature, then consult a Neter about deepening that relationship. Lisa will share tips for fine-tuning how we listen to nature's wisdom, guidance, and ideas for using SoulCollage® to interact closely with nature and hear its voices more clearly. We'll enjoy another consultation (outdoors, weather permitting) on what is ready to bloom for us and share with each other. At "trail's" end, we'll receive a blessing from nature!

Your nature guide for this session, Lisa Handley, has been a Facilitator since March 2014 and has offered in-person and online workshops including through World of SoulCollage® and KaleidoSoul. She loves communing with nature, and many of her workshop themes focus on nature's messengers as sources of inspiration, insight, wisdom, and guidance. Lisa is also a mixed media artist, photographer, poet, writer and instructor who has worked with ages 4 to 104! www.plumeriapapercraft.com

Meets in FIRESIDE. Bring your journal, pen, plus 10-12 cards in any suit, preferably with imagery and/or energy related to nature.

The Community Suit: Tending the Roots of Belonging

The Community Suit forms a vital root system within our decks, connecting us to the relationships, places, and beings that shape our sense of belonging. Inspired by the African philosophy of Ubuntu—"I am because we are"—and Hoʻolauna—a Hawaiian practice of self-introduction that roots us in the names and lineages we carry and the unique rhythms of the places that hold us—participants will explore how community shapes us through card consultation, journaling, and found-word poetry. They will leave renewed and re-inspired to tend the living roots of their Community Suit, where connection itself becomes nourishment for the whole deck.

Your presenter, Beth Marcil, is a Hawai'i-based visual artist, was trained as a Facilitator by Seena Frost in 2010 and has been a Trainer since 2019. She offers in-person and online Facilitator Trainings and workshops through the World of SoulCollage® and other venues, and soon in her new Hawai'i Island studio. She was also a presenter at the 2023 Facilitator Gathering in Sorano, Italy. Her broader work includes mixed media, painting, and book arts workshops, K–12 arts-integrated residencies, and professional development for educators and student support professionals. www.artfromtheinsideout.com

Meets in FRANCIS. Bring your journal and pen, plus 3-5 Community cards, including at least one card that honors a place.

What Roots in the Dark, Blossoms in the Light

Using the natural metaphor of roots and blooms, we'll trace how the unseen parts of our psyche (roots) give rise to the visible expressions of our creativity and consciousness (blooms). Through guided reflection, sharing, and card consultation, participants will weave together insights from their dreams, SoulCollage® cards, and poetic imagery to uncover personal symbols of growth, transformation, and belonging.

LeAnne Thomas is your guide for this session, the President & CEO of the SoulCollage Institute, and lives in Nashville, TN. A Facilitator since 2016, she helped develop the World of SoulCollage® online community, which hosted the first online Facilitator Training in 2020. She went on to serve as a Trainer from 2022–2024. LeAnne holds certificates in Dreamwork and Spiritual Direction from the Haden Institute and is especially interested in applying SoulCollage® to dreamwork. She offers a free e-book, Three Ways to Explore Dreams with SoulCollage®, on her website.

Meets in LIBRARY. Bring your journal and pen. Optional: a dream or dream journal, and any cards from your dreams.

On a Wing and Prayer: Embracing Hope and Trust

This session explores the theme "On a Wing and a Prayer," including the origin of the expression and the unique ways each of us might have experienced it. What inner or outer forces do we call upon when faced with a seemingly impossible challenge? How do we muster Hope and Trust? A brief journaling prompt inspires our card-making activity, followed by a scribed card reading in dyads. We'll close with a group reflection and sharing. Participants are invited to "fly in" for a fun and inspiring card-making session.

Sally Freed's passion lies in cultivating nurturing spaces for 'aha' moments that naturally occur through the SoulCollage® process and is your facilitator for this session. She has led a wide variety of retreats and workshops over the past 10 years. She received specialized training in retreat leadership through a master's program at Seattle University. She's been fortunate to lead several pilgrimage groups to Iona, Scotland, and throughout the Pacific Northwest. www.sallyfreed.com

Meets in MOTHER EARTH. Bring your journal and pen, cards, scissors, glue stick, and whatever additional supplies you wish. Images and a few supplies will be available.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS II - Saturday Afternoon

Telling Your SoulCollage® Story

In this workshop, you will gain practical tools to make your story memorable and inspire others to explore SoulCollage®. Do you sometimes feel tongue-tied and awkward when trying to describe your experience with SoulCollage®? Learn how to engage your listeners and feel more confident. Explore the difference between an elevator speech and a short personal story, and the benefits of each. Working with prompts, practice storytelling techniques to boost your skills and develop SoulCollage® stories.

Penelope Starr is your guide for this session and often blends SoulCollage® techniques with her innovative writing and storytelling workshops. Founder of Odyssey Storytelling, a monthly Tucson storytelling series since 2004, she is the author of The Radical Act of Community Storytelling: Empowering Voices in Uncensored Events (2017) and the novel Desert Haven (2024). In 2020 she completed the first online Facilitator training with Mariabruna Sirabella. You can see what she's up to at www.penelopestarr.com.

Meets in FIRESIDE. Your first card and/or a card that surprised you, and/or a card that you learned a lesson from (if you don't have the card with you, please have a written description of it).

Expand your Reading Repertoire: Adapting Tarot and Oracle Spreads

Oracle and Tarot spreads offer a unique bouquet of possibilities for Facilitators and beginners alike. In this session, discover how to harvest and adapt spreads from Tarot, Oracle decks, and more, specifically for SoulCollage®. Experience two readings to gain fresh insights from your own cards. Learn to translate external questions into "SoulCollage® language" and leave with resources and new ideas to keep your practice—and your workshops—vibrantly growing.

Laurie Durnell (see her bio on page 2), Connie Beall (see her bio on page 2) and Kim Gordon Cumbo are your facilitators for this session. Kim is a retired midwife, Certified Medical Assistant, and Certified Transition Life Coach. Trained as a SoulCollage® Facilitator with Seena Frost in 2005, she has over 20 years of experience leading workshops in SoulCollage®, Reiki, and Joyful Wellness. Based in Portland, Oregon, she offers online and in-person classes and events that encourage reflection, creativity, and a deeper connection to one's own intuition and insight.

Meets in FRANCIS. Bring your journal and pen, plus all the cards you have from any of the 4 suits.

Creating Circles of Trust and Expanding the Reach of SoulCollage®

Creating trustworthy circles is essential for bringing the experience of SoulCollage® to more people during challenging times. This workshop engages participants in a Circle of Trust based on the work of Parker Palmer and the Center for Courage and Renewal. Participants explore ways to foster spaces where people feel safe, heard, witnessed, and bold. Examples from unexpected settings show how SoulCollage® circles of trust make a difference, while small groups identify opportunities within their own communities to expand access. As Seena writes, "How each of us nurtures, heals, and explores Soul shapes the cultural changes now emerging."

Lea Abrams is your presenter for this session and has been a Facilitator since 2022, bringing SoulCollage® into a variety of unexpected settings, including the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, universities, assisted living communities, and programs supporting survivors of trafficking. She offers SoulCollage® workshops online and in-person, and integrates the practice into her coaching work with individuals and couples. Lea is a Certified Somatic and Mindfulness Coach, Certified Grief Guide, and Courage & Renewal Practitioner. She is also an educator, writer, and poet whose work appears on Substack. Her poetry collection ...and then she grew wings is available through major booksellers. Learn more at risewellcoaching.com

Meets in LIBRARY. Bring your journal and pen, plus at least one Council card that represents an archetype of wisdom and power (e.g. Sage, Lightbearer, Warrior, Wise One).

Fire and Bloom: Integrating the Archetypes of Hawaiian Goddesses Pele and Hi'iaka

Explore the dynamic interplay of Pele's fierce, transformative fire and Hi'iaka's healing, generative bloom. Through mythic storytelling, guided meditation, and card-making, engage with the dichotomy of release and renewal, power and tenderness. Experience how courageous transformation and creative restoration arise from the same elemental source. This workshop invites participants to embody these archetypal energies within themselves and discover meaningful ways to integrate their wisdom into their personal lives and SoulCollage® facilitation.

Your facilitators for this session:
Isabelle George is a French-Mexican-American LMFT, RPT and SoulCollage® Facilitator, born and raised in San Diego, CA. She recently relocated to St. Johns, FL, while continuing her private practice in San Diego. Rooted in culture, community, and depth work, she integrates Jungian Sandplay, Play Therapy, and Expressive Arts. Her work honors Deep Roots and New Blooms—inviting exploration of identity, intuition, and transformation through image, symbol, and story. www.liveinspiredtherapy.com and
Shirla de Magalhães, LMFT, RPTS, RSP, is a psychotherapist raised in Brazil and rooted in San Diego since 1999. Her private practice integrates depth psychology and expressive arts, guiding individuals through sandplay, play therapy, and SoulCollage®, honoring the psyche's symbolic language. Weaving Jungian insight with creative practice, she facilitates workshops and monthly SoulCollage® circles for cancer survivors and community groups, cultivating spaces for reflection, healing, and soulful renewal.

Meets in MOTHER EARTH. Bring your journal and pen, cards, scissors, glue stick, and whatever additional supplies you wish. Images and a few supplies will be available.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS III – Saturday Late Afternoon

The Council and the Cosmos: Discovering Astrological Energies through SoulCollage®

In this workshop, we will explore archetypal astrology as a playful new lens for listening to our cards. Grounded in Jungian depth psychology and the idea of multiplicity, participants will experiment with identifying planetary energies and life themes from the astrological houses within their decks. Using handouts inspired by Laurence Hillman's Planets in Play, we'll discover how astrology can offer fresh pathways for dialogue with our Neters—and invite new blooms of insight.

Your presenter, Mary Hillman Ruetten, a PhD student in Depth Psychology at Meridian University, became a Facilitator in 2023. She loves helping people discover the living constellation within their psyche. Working at the crossroads of archetypal astrology, depth psychology, and creative practice, she writes SoulCurriculum and designs experiential workshops that invite participants to explore through image, story, and symbol to deepen dialogue with their decks and reveal the hidden patterns that shape our lives.

Meets in FRANCIS. Bring some Council and/or Committee Cards, your journal and a pen.

The Sound of Two Voices: Exploring Inner Contradictions

To paraphrase Walt Whitman, our Committee Suit contains multitudes! Some of these inner parts are contradictions or polarities, like our Patient Self and our Impatient Self, our Rebel and our Obedient One. Using the easy and engaging Poem in Two Voices model, see what these parts want to say to each other, and to you.

Your guide for this adventure, MJ Abell leads and co-leads creativity and personal development workshops in Columbus, Ohio and beyond. Trained as a SoulCollage® Facilitator in 2013, she has led monthly workshops with veterans since 2018. MJ draws on her talents as a poet and essayist to create new ways to explore our cards and ourselves through creative writing.

Meets in LIBRARY. It's helpful, but not essential, to have some Committee cards with you. Bring your clipboard and something to write with.

Open Studio for Cardmaking Enjoy making cards after your day full of intriguing new ideas and perspectives. This sunny, welcoming room is a perfect place.

Meets in MOTHER EARTH. Bring cards, scissors, glue stick, and whatever supplies you wish. Images and a few supplies will be available.

Guided Breathwork Meditation – Recharge Your Creative Battery

Breathwork is an active meditation that utilizes a 3-part breath pattern to help quiet the mind and connect to the heart. Through rhythmic, gentle breathing, it resets the nervous system and promotes physical, mental, and emotional well-being. Breathwork is an enhancement to creative expressive activities, like SoulCollage®. It deepens connection to creativity within your spirit, your right brain, and your body. What you can expect during Breathwork: 1) Mild vibration sensation in the body; 2) Gentle, healing emotional release; 3) Inner contentment and peace.

Your facilitators: Katie Breedlove and Beth Mattsson.

Katie is a life-long spiritual seeker and a healing arts practitioner, trained in SoulCollage® and certified in Breathwork. She loves to garden, do yoga, attend breathwork circles, and travel, including spending time with family in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Beth discovered the healing power of SoulCollage® and other expressive arts while trying to recover from debilitating chronic fatigue in 2013. She became a SoulCollage® Facilitator in 2013 and studied other expressive arts. She lives in the San Francisco Bay Area with her husband and rescue Boxer, Bella. She retired from her career in public education in January 2025 and is exploring new possibilities!

Meets in ANTHONY. Bring a yoga mat, towel, or other item to lie on. We'll have extras – don't worry! An eye mask and something to cover up with for warmth is also helpful.

The "Business" of Facilitating SoulCollage®: Exploring the Practicalities

With excitement, dreams, and a wealth of images, your SoulCollage® facilitation journey begins. Hosting gatherings is both a heartfelt service and, for some, a professional endeavor. Explore the practical aspects of creating and managing various offerings, including ongoing groups, serving community settings, or weaving SoulCollage® into an existing profession. Topics for discussion include attracting participants, determining fees (if any), securing venues, and other logistics. Whether you're a new or seasoned Facilitator, this forum invites your questions, concerns, experience, and wisdom in a supportive, collaborative environment.

Karen Haas, Connie Beall, and Anne House facilitate this conversation. You can find bios for Karen and Connie on page 2. Anne is a retired Hospice Volunteer Manager with degrees in Interpersonal Communication and Transcendent Leadership. She trained as a Facilitator in February 2025, and now offers monthly workshops in Napa, CA. Her gatherings have served hospice volunteers, death-positive communities, as well as small family and church groups.

Meets in CLARE. Come with your questions and ideas. Bring your Facilitator Self card, if you have one.

PLENARY SESSION – Saturday Evening

Meet in FIRESIDE. Ready for your 3 minutes (or less) of fame? Bring your poetry, short stories, jokes, skits, monologue, songs, and sense of humor!

Sparks in the Dark – An Open Mic Adventure

Enjoy an evening of creativity, connection, and a little magic. This lively open mic welcomes poets, musicians, storytellers, and comedians to share from the heart. Whether you perform or simply listen, you'll be part of a warm, welcoming space where every voice is celebrated.

Your host for the evening is Deb Dake (see her bio on page 2).

SUNDAY, MAY 31

MORNING PLENARY SESSION

Meet in FIRESIDE. Bring your journal, pen, and your five essential Committee cards.

The Universal Committee Neters: Heeding Seena's Wisdom

In her book, SoulCollage® Evolving, Seena Frost describes five "must have" Committee Neters: The Happy Child, The Grateful One, The Observer, The Inner Critic, and The Judge. We'll spend some time with each of these, discovering how they uniquely provide opportunities to build community, create intriguing workshops and exercises, and better understand the SoulCollage® process and deck structure. We'll close with some group brainstorming about how we, and these Neters, can further blossom and grow.

PLENARY SESSIONS - Sunday Afternoon

Meet in FIRESIDE. Bring your pen, journal, and a collection of at least 20 of your cards from any suit, including cards that you made and cards that you specifically connected with this weekend.

Grounded Blooms A bloom without roots is a cut flower. Beautiful, and brief. What does it mean to grow something that lasts — in our practice, in our communities, in the world of SoulCollage®? What are the changes and transformations that will allow the spirit of SoulCollage® to bloom steadily into the future? Drawing on Seena Frost's vision of an evolutionary paradigm shift, we will look honestly at where we stand, what we carry, and what we are being called to grow. As Facilitators, we know that the seeds we choose to plant every day are already our harvest, and that of those who come after us.

Wrap Up and Closing Ritual As our weekend ends, we'll share some gratitude, wrap up our adventures, and look toward the future. A closing ritual will weave a web of support for the intentions and actions that await our attention.

The Planning Committee will host this session.

We wish you safe travels until we meet again!
